FALLING HAIR.

Easy to Stop it and Make it Lustrous and Beautiful.

If your hair is falling out; if you have dull, unattractive hair, or if you need a daily hair dressing, read what Mrs. Hettie Hodgman, of Nelsonville, Erie County, Ohio, writes June 2, 1910, about Parisian Sage:

"I used Parisian Sage for falling hair and find it the finest thing I ever heard of.
My hair was falling out by combs full, and I could run my fingers through it and they would hang full of loose hair. I washed my hair and got a bottle of Parisian Sage and used two applications, and I could see a great difference. My hair was lustrous and nice and had almost stopped falling out, and by the use of one more bottle it stopped altogether."

For women, for men or for children Parisian Sage is without any doubt the finest preparation for the hair. It is guaranteed by E. J. Jenkins to stop hair from falling; to eradicate dandruff and stop itching scalp in two weeks, or money back. It is a most delicately perfumed and refreshing hair dressing, free from grease or stickiness, and ought to be in every home where every member of the family could use it daily. Large bottle 50c at E. J. Jenkins' and druggists everywhere. The girl with the auburn hair is on every package.

SOMETHING IMPORTANT IN SIGHT FOR BRYAN

Efforts Being Made to Secure Free Mail Delivery by April, 1911.
Advantages of Service.

The Commercial Club is putting forth every possible effort to secure free mail delivery for Bryan. There are many requirements that must be met, but Secretary Hewitt says most of these have been arranged for and there is a strong campaign on for securing the others.

One of the most important requirements is a sufficiency of sidewalks.
In order to meet the requirement of the postoffice department there is still a great deal of improvement to be made in the sidewalks over the city.
In securing the delivery service and meeting the required conditions there will result many permanent improvements that alone would be worth the cost of construction.

There are many advantages in having a free mail delivery service. It will furnish us with at least three civil service deliverymen; it will be a great convenience, and will place Bryan in the class with the larger towns of the state.

There is plenty of time between now and April, 1911, to get the town in shape to meet all of the conditions necessary to securing the service.
With the volume of business transacted at the local postoffice and other conditions along this line Bryan is entitled to free delivery now, and with only small effort we can be ready to make the application with assurance that it will be granted.

MRS. EDDY'S WEALTH.

She Left an Estate Estimated To Be 'Worth a Million Dollars.

[Special to The Bryan Eagle.] Boston, Mass., Dec. 7.—Various estimates have been made of Mrs. Eddy's wealth, but those most familiar with her affairs believe that she has left about $1,000,000. Her estate is in the hands of Trustees Archibald McLellan, Josiah Fernald, of Concord, N. H., and Adam H. Diekey, Mrs.
Eddy's private secretary.

In 1907 Mrs. Eddy, after providing handsomely for her son, George W.
Glover, of Leads, S. D., and her adopted son, Dr. Ebenezer Johnson Foster Eddy, turned over to her trustees $778,770. This sum was invested in gilt-edged securities, mostly city bonds.

The bulk of Mrs. Eddy's property is understood to be so willed as to revert to the Christian Science church corporation.

KILLED MAN AND THEN SURRENDERED

C. L. Thomas Fires Three Bullets into Head of J. P. McClarny at Eastland—Both Prominent.

[Special to The Bryan Eagle.]
Eastland, Texas, Dec. 7.—J. P. Mc-Clarny was shot and killed here late yesterday by C. L. Thomas in a mercantile warehouse. Thomas fired three times, all the bullets taking effect in McClarny's head. After the shooting Thomas went to the sheriff's office and surrendered.

The families of both are prominent, and they reside four miles north of Eastland. Thomas refuses to discuss the shooting.

EDGE ETCHINGS.

About all the cotton is out and quite a lot of moving is being done, getting ready for Christmas and for another year's work.

Pastor D. B. Waite preached at the First Baptist church Saturday night and Sunday.

"Grandma" McAllipin happened to quite a serious accident several days ago, in some way breaking the bone in the hip joint. At this writing she is quite ill.

Friends here of the Bryan Baptist Academy are in deep sympathy with the school over its recent disaster, but are glad to know that a better building will be built. In conversation with one of Bryan's best business men he said: "Of course, we will rebuild. It is worth too much to our town. It takes a lot of money, but we can not take any away with us, so we should spend it helping others."

Mrs. M. E. Hill returned last week from an extended visit to her daughter in Fairfield.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Payne spent last week in Bryan, Mrs. Payne having dental work done.

Dr. and Mrs. Hill spent several days last week in Bryan, the guests of Rev. and Mrs. B. L. Nash.

Mrs. Isa McDonald spent several days with her father, Mrs. James Wilson, Jr., returning to her home in Nor-mangee on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. McLane, of Marquez, are spending a few days with relatives and friends on Payne Prairie and at Macy.

Frank Bosler went to Bryan Friday.
Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson, Jr., have two sick children. We hope to report them better soon.

Rev. Davis and Pastor Waite will be at the Baptist church here Tuesday, December 13. They will also lecture and give the public some "moving pictures" in the evening. Everybody is cordially invited to both services.

Mrs. Loula Lawless is moving from Macy to Kurten. We are sorry to lose this excellent family.

Schools and Factories.

Bryan is recognized as a city of schools. The foundation has been laid in that direction and a decade hence will doubtless see great improvements over even her present enviable position in that regard. Navasota has made a start along the line of small factories and industries and if we will but continue to stir ourselves a dozen or more others of a similar bent can be established. The result will be continuous prosperity in a few years and a doubled population.—Navasota Examiner-Review.

NOTES OVER THE CITY

Mr. W. M. Fox, the sidewalk contractor and builder, returned last night from Palestine, where he has been doing paving work. Mr. Fox has a number of contracts for walks in Bryan, and will be busy for some time.

Charley Jennings, the negro who is alleged to have assaulted two Mexican laborers near the International & Great Northern coal chute the other day, has not yet been caught. The Mexicans were taken to the railroad hospital at Palestine yesterday, and it is now thought that they will both recover.

Now that Mr. Fox has returned and is ready to do concrete work in the city, what about those concrete street crossings that were to be put in on Main street? One advantage of such crossings is that property owners will be required to build walks on the intersecting streets. The crossings would be a great improvement to Main street.

The preliminary plans for the sewer system are under fine headway and work will be started soon. Bryan will not again have to suffer the intolerable and disgraceful conditions in the business district through another summer.

Allen's big colored minstrels will show in this city on next Wednesday night, December 14. This is a tent show and never fails to please the large crowds that attend. They carry a superb band and orchestra and travel in their own car.

A COWBOY FACTORY.

Shrewd Swindling Scheme Planned by Young Man in San Antonio.

[Special to The Bryan Eagle.]
San Antonio, Texas, Dec. 7.—Government officers, at the instance of the postoffice inspectors, have broken up the San Antonio cowboy factory, which for the past two weeks has been doing a land-office business all over the United States. For two dollars, according to the advertisement of the "factory," real cowboys would be made and placed on the "great Rincon ranch." The receipts of the "factory" from aspirants for the whirling lariat and the life on the range, according to the United States marshal's office, reached several hundred dollars a day.

The "factory" comprised one man, Carl Smith, who had an office on Soledad street. A printed letter distributed and mailed by agents of Smith in the large cities, especially in the North and East, served to bring in the dollars. The letter read, in substance, that the great "Rincon" ranch near San Antonio (as a matter of fact, there is no such ranch) was in need of additional cowboys, and that energetic, strong young men, different from the old-fashioned Texas cowboy, were needed. Good wages and comfortable quarters, in addition to the fascination of a life in the open with all the adventures and pleasures of the range, were the inducements.

Mr. Smith, in his letters distributed in Chicago, approached the prospective cowboy in this language:

"Your railroad fare will be in the neighborhood of $30 from Chicago. We are so in need of cowboys that we are willing to advance you your railroad fare by return mail, after we receive from you a remittance of $2, as an evidence of good faith on your part.
Send me the $2 and I will send you ticket from Chicago to San Antonio."

The idea of a cowboy factory, say the government officers after a talk with Smith, who is lodged in the Bexar county jail, originated in the interest maidens in the North are evinced in Texas cowboys. Governor Campbell, of Texas, and Postmaster John J. Stevens daily receiving scores of letters asking them to furnish the names of cowboys eligible as husbands. The idea of a cowboy factory then occurred, upon the publication recently of some letters, to the young man on Soledad street. From the way in which his letters met with $2 responses it is evident there are many youths whose ambition is to ride the range and punch cattle. While the cowboy is still an institution in Southwest Texas, he has practically disappeared from the vicinity of San Antonio, the cutting up of the large cattle ranches into farms relegating him to the pages of fiction or history, or driving him to the still remaining large ranches in Northwest Texas.

METHODISTS TABOO TOBACCO.

Users of the "Filthy Weed" Will Not Be Admitted to the Ministry.

San Antonio, Texas, Dec. 7.—The order has gone forth from the conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Texas that the ministers under no circumstances shall smoke.
It is now one of the requirements that tobacco shall not be used, and that pastors shall not be in debt to such an extent as would embarrass the effectiveness of their work.

At the conference just held a number were elected to trial and placed in the study of the different years, Bishop Moore, of Cincinnati, addressed a class. He dwelt on the fact that before being admitted they must agree to abstain from the use of tobacco, which he characterized as a needless indulgence. This was followed by action of the conference along the same lines.

BROOM CORN IN DRY CLIMATE.

Crop Raised Without Water Sold for $140 a Ton.

[Special to The Bryan Eagle.]

Spokane, Wash., Dec. 7.—W. D.
Chapman, a farmer in the Walla Walla valley, had a small tract of broom corn, raised without a drop of water from the time of planting until he harvested it, which he sold for $140 a ton. Other farmers have made the experiment of growing broom corn and find that it gives good returns. Accordingly, they are planning on larger planting for the coming season. Several farmers will try it for the cleaning crop for summer fallow, and believe that it will make good returns.

"Broom corn will do well in this section," said A. M. Butler, superintendent of the College Place broom factory, located in the Walla Walla valley. "There is no reason why it can not be grown as well here as anywhere, and with irrigation would be the best produced anywhere. That grown here this summer was a trifle too brittle, but with more moisture it would be as good as any."

EARTHQUAKES IN JAPAN.

Yokohama, Japan, Dec. 7.—Mount Asama continues to attract attention and create anxiety by steadily increasing evidences of activity. On the 6th instant great masses of black smoke were emitted from the crater, which lasted more than twenty-four hours and rolled out toward the sea in a black cloud. At the same time intense subterranean rumblings were heard around its base.

On the night of the 6th, a few moments after midnight, a severe shock was experienced at Nagasaki, in the far southwestern end of Japan. Four minutes later a second tremor occurred, followed by a slight trembling of the earth which lasted several minutes. Some slight damage is reported.

Two days later, on the afternoon of the 8th, a shock was felt throughout the Yokohama-Tokio district which lasted almost two minutes.

The natives are used to earthquakes in Japan, but this unwanted activity is the source of some slight anxiety.
